Since 1960, APWA has sponsored National Public Works Week. Across North America our more than 30,000 members in the United States and Canada use this week to energize and educate the public on the importance of the contribution of public works to their daily lives; planning, building, managing and operating the heart of our local communities and building the quality of life.

“Connecting the World Through Public Works” is the theme for the 2023 National Public Works Week. Public Works is the thread that connects us all, no matter where we live in the world. Every public work professional strives to improve the quality of life for the community they serve, leading to healthier, happier communities.

The “Connecting the World Through Public Works” theme highlights the way public works professionals connect us physically, through infrastructure, and inspirationally, through service to their communities, whether as first responders, or daily workers carrying out their duties with pride.

Public works connectors help keep communities strong by providing an infrastructure of services in transportation, water, wastewater, and stormwater treatment, public buildings and spaces, parks and grounds, emergency management and first response, solid waste, and right-of-way management. They are what make our communities great places to live and work. Join us in celebrating the quiet work these professionals do that makes life better for all of us.

Does your agency celebrate Public Works Week? If you have a Public Works Week story or agency proclamation that you would like to share with the Chapter, please send it to Pamela Weimer at bdweimer@msn.com so that we can recognize it in future newsletters. We hope you'll join us in celebrating!

Message from the President

Mark Jackson

“You want me to do what?!”

I find myself saying this more and more (usually to myself) at work these days. Not in a disgruntled, grouchy old guy way, but more in amazement at the variety and complexity of what we are now asked to do in Public Works. I’ve been in transportation and public works for thirty years now (yes, I am that old). I think back to what that world looked like then. Very traditional: build the roads, plow the snow, fill the potholes, and keep the lights on and water running.

Don’t get me wrong; we still do these things and do them very well. Public Works will always help keep communities safe, operational, and moving. Public Works answers the bell whenever needed. But the depth, breadth, and complexity of what we are now asked to address are anything but traditional. In my community over the past several years, our team has been asked to clean up illegal homeless encampments and construct an alternative shelter compound for the unhoused in our community. Our Public Works team became experts in disinfecting public buildings and office spaces to keep our employees safe during the height of the pandemic. Our field crews are now trained in de-escalation techniques to defuse an increasingly angry and impatient public.

I raise all this not to lament the “good old days”, but instead to suggest that as our Public Works world evolves in many new areas, we will need to develop new skills and broaden our scope of expertise to meet these challenges. This is a critical time for our profession as many in our workforce are preparing to retire, and both public and private agencies are finding it difficult to recruit, hire and retain new employees to take their place. Partnerships with our schools and community colleges, as well as creative apprenticeship programs will be critical in exposing students and recent graduates to the variety of opportunities Public Works may afford them. We will need to “grow our own” to find the next generation of skilled, talented workers.

I urge us all to get creative and start thinking about how we bring the next generation into Public Works and help them gain the skills and experience needed for success in a rapidly changing world. We also need to provide our existing workforce with training opportunities to keep their skills current and sharp. This is where APWA really shines!

With that I wish you all a happy and warm spring. I hope to see you at any of our planned events around the state. Be safe and do great work!

Mark Jackson, City of Loveland Public Works Director

Construction Inspection Conference

February 1 & 2, 2023

It was another successful year at the annual APWA Colorado Chapter Construction Inspection Conference. The APWA Colorado Chapter hosted over 200 public works professionals, speakers and vendors at the Lone Tree Arts Center on February 1 & 2, 2023.

Jeremy Hanak, APWA Colorado Chapter Director, welcomed attendees with opening remarks and special thanks to our exhibitors and sponsors for their generous support of the conference by exhibiting, sponsoring breakfast and lunches and donating gift cards for the drawings held throughout the event.

We had a wide variety of sessions this year including:

- APM Inspector's 10 Tips for a Successful Project! - Tom Clayton and Mike Skinner, CAPA
- Asphalt and the Storm Water Pollution Prevention Plan - Don Nathan, QPR Division of the Quikrete Companies
- Environmental Product Declarations (EPDs) and Their Use in Colorado - Hailey Goodale, CDOT
- Colorado LTAP Resources - Heather Carlson, Colorado LTAP
- 2023 Trends & New Developments in the Asphalt Industry - Tom Clayton and Mike Skinner, CAPA
- Lessons Learned from an MS4 Audit and How it Changed the City of Greeley's MS4 Program for the Better - Lauren Hillmer and Nick Weston, City of Greeley
- Key Considerations for Achieving Durable Concrete - Angela Folkestad & Sarah Dalton, CO/WY Chapter – ACPA
- Yes, Leadership is for You - Laura Kroeger, Mile High Flood District
- APWA's Certified Public Infrastructure Inspector (CPII) Certification - Lowell Paton, CP Construction Group
- Situational Awareness Training - Trish Ennis and Tatiana Chapman, Colorado Safety Association
- Sky Ridge Bridge Emergency Repair Project - James Newberry, Samuel Lopez Rodriguez, Bob Gorse, Benesch

2023 Inspector of the Year

Inspector of the Year plaque was awarded to James Beall, Arapahoe County by Scott Boyd, Conference Chair and Jeremy Hanak, APWA Colorado Chapter Director.

Congratulations James!

Once again, the conference featured a comprehensive construction inspection test. First, Second and Third place winners were awarded gift cards.

Second Place

Sam Sorger, Felsburg Holt & Ullevig

Third Place

Adrian Yebra, City of Loveland

We want to extend our thanks to attendees, speakers, sponsors, exhibitors, committee members, and everyone in between that helped make the 2023 conference a success!

We hope this Conference celebrated you as a public works professional whose efforts create a great place to live and improve the quality of life of the communities you serve. Please join us next year for another great event!

Special thanks to the 2023 Committee Members:

Are you Ready for National Public Works Week?

National Public Works Week (NPWW), held May 21-27, 2023, is almost here!

APWA is proud to announce “Connecting the World Through Public Works” as the theme for the 2023 National Public Works Week. Public Works is the thread that connects us all, no matter where we live in the world. Every public works professional strives to improve the quality of life for the community they serve, leading to healthier, happier communities.

APWA encourages public works agencies and professionals to take the opportunity to make their stories known in their communities. The National Public Works Week How-To Guide, Resources, and Downloads area are available to agencies to assist in the development and implementation of their own individual celebrations on the webpage: <https://npww.apwa.net/>.

We encourage you to seek NPWW proclamations from your elected officials that you can then share on Twitter, Facebook, or Instagram with the #NPWWProclamation hashtag to be added to the APWA NPWW website. We are so proud of the work you do every day, and during National Public Works Week to keep our communities safe.

Please share your celebrations with the Colorado Chapter so that we can recognize all the wonderful public works people and agencies across the state! You can send photos and stories to Pamela at bdweimer@msn.com to share in future newsletters and Facebook and Twitter (@APWAColorado).

2023 APWA YP Events Coming!

With 2023 in full effect, the APWA Colorado Chapter Young Professionals (YP) Group is looking forward to a strong year with several events! We will work with the High Line Canal Conservancy again to set up a volunteer event along their canal. We are also hosting a water treatment facility tour soon and a Rockies game outing as well. Whether you are early in your career, new to the area, or are a former YP that wants to pass along some wisdom, the Colorado YP Group wants to hear from you!

Tentative 2023 events include:

- Topgolf Event
- High Line Canal Volunteer Event - Brush Removal & Tree Planting
- South Platte Water treatment facility tour - May 11
- BBQ Event - Summer
- Thanksgiving volunteer event
- Rockies Game - September 12
- Annual APWA Conference Speaker Introductions

Contact Ryan Garringer, at rgarringer@benesch.com if you have any questions or would like to get involved. Please share with others in your office or organization that may be interested in becoming part of this professional organization. There are opportunities to join the YP Committee. Public Works is best shared with others, so come be a part of the group!

Compost Changes

*Juliana Archuleta
Adams County Stormwater Administrator
Sustainability Committee Chair*

For communities with compost collection programs that deliver materials to A-1 Organics, new rules are effective April 1, 2023.

New and more simple guidelines were adopted. Accepted materials for residential and commercial compost collection are limited to:

- ONLY food scraps
- ONLY yard / plant trimmings
- ONLY 3-gallon certified (CMA Approved) compostables bags used to collect food scraps

WHY? 10% of material received by A1 Organics is too contaminated to process effectively and meet the quality standards for finished compost. A1 Organics is reducing the accepted material list as the first step in eliminating contamination.

APWA Colorado Awards Nominations Open!

The Colorado Chapter is accepting nominations for the 2023 Awards Program! This will be the 38th year of this celebration of Public Works. Awards will be presented in each category for extraordinary Colorado projects and programs as well as individual achievement. Nominations are limited to new projects that have not been previously submitted for an award to this program. Projects eligible for this year's awards would have been completed between July 1, 2022 and June 30, 2023.

Nominations will only be accepted using the Awards Nomination Submittal Form available on the Colorado Chapter website. There is a form to submit a nomination for projects and programs and a separate form for an individual nomination. Please complete the submittal form and return the nomination and photos via email to bdweimer@msn.com. You will receive a confirmation email. If you don't receive confirmation or if you have questions, please contact Pamela Weimer, Colorado Chapter Administrator, at 303.979.2190.

Please note: The nomination deadline is midnight MDT, August 4, 2023 and will NOT be extended!

Award nomination information and the submittal forms can be found on the Colorado Chapter website: <http://colorado.apwa.net/PageViews/PageIndex?id=31629>.

GETTING IT DONE is the theme this year of the APWA Colorado 9th Annual Chapter Conference, which will be held at the Denver Marriott West in Golden on October 23 and 24, 2023. The conference committee encourages everyone to take advantage of the opportunity to learn from industry professionals as well as your peers on some of the new and exciting trends in our industry on innovation and technology.

The challenges we are facing since the pandemic and subsequent recovery are nothing most of us have faced during our careers. We can't achieve results in the same old manner; fewer resources and higher prices have put the squeeze on our agencies and projects. For this year's conference we are focusing on presentations that contemplate how we deal with these circumstances in the Public Works arena. Today's challenges to design, bid, and construct projects push us to find innovative ways to getting it done. Our goal is to provide a fulfilling experience and have you walk away with a new perspective on projects and your agencies.

Our two-day conference format will again include both general sessions and breakout sessions with topics focusing on technical and maintenance; financial and funding; and leadership and management aspects of public works. You'll also have access to dynamic product vendors and suppliers showcasing the latest innovative tools throughout the conference. As we face these new challenges, there are new ideas and tools available which will help us find success moving forward. The networking opportunities of the APWA conference are always a huge benefit for conference attendees to engage with your fellow public works professionals outside of work, and we will have an energetic and entertaining social hour on Monday night.

The APWA Colorado Chapter Awards banquet will be held on Tuesday, October 24, 2023 during the Conference and is included in your conference registration. We hope you take the opportunity to nominate the most outstanding, deserving and noteworthy public works projects and professionals! Registration for the conference will start this summer and will be available on the APWA Colorado Chapter website. The planning committee looks forward to seeing you at the 9th Annual Chapter Conference!

You can receive updates on this year's conference on the APWA Colorado Chapter website:
